Sample #3 Clancie M. 29 - Score Point 3

The major conflict Maryann must overcome in "Sunny Days and Sunny Nights" is deciding to listen to her father and travel down a safe road or take a chance and listen to her instincts about Sunny and live an uncertain future.

Marybeth's father is concerned for his daughter and wants her to always be taken care of despite her feelings for Sunny. "... And I'd say Sunny having a chance is like peace having a chance. However, in spite of her father's concerns, Marybeth follows her heart and marries Sunny, her true love. Marybeth made the decision to take a risk and face her future head on, instead of letting it overtake her, which is a choice we must all make at some point in our lives.
